- · Net income increased $4.5 billion in 2023 compared with 2022, primarily driven by a $7.9 billion shift to a benefit for credit losses in 2023 from provision for credit losses in 2022
- $369 billion in liquidity provided in 2023, which enabled the financing of approximately 1.5 million home purchases, refinancings, and rental units
- · Acquired approximately 805,000 single-family purchase loans, of which more than 45% were for first-time homebuyers, and approximately 179,000 singlefamily refinance loans during 2023
- Financed approximately 482,000 units of multifamily rental housing in 2023; a significant majority were affordable to households earning at or below 120% of area median income, providing support for both workforce and affordable housing

- The U.S. weekly average 30-year fixed-rate mortgage rate increased from 6.42% as of the end of 2022 to 6.61% as of the end of 2023

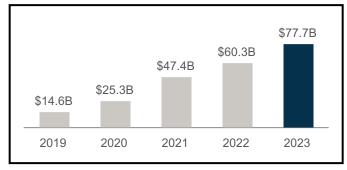

"The fourth quarter capped another successful year. Fannie Mae reported $3.9 billion in net income, marking our twenty-fourth consecutive quarter of positive earnings. In 2023, we delivered $17.4 billion in earnings and continued to rebuild our capital and further strengthen our financial stability. It was a challenging year for housing, with higher mortgage rates, limited homes for sale, and high home prices weighing on affordability. Against this backdrop, we provided $369 billion in liquidity, helping 1.5 million households buy, refinance, or rent a home. As we close on our 85th year supporting America's housing system, we remain committed to effectively managing risks and being a reliable source of mortgage credit for America's homeowners and renters.

Financial Highlights

Net income increased $4.5 billion in 2023 compared with 2022, primarily driven by a $7.9 billion shift to a benefit for credit losses in 2023 from provision for credit losses in 2022.

- Net interest income remained strong in 2023 primarily driven by guaranty fee income. While the company's base guaranty fee income grew slightly in 2023, higher interest rates during the year drove a decline in deferred guaranty fee income due to lower refinance activity. This was offset by an increase in income due to higher yields on securities in the company's corporate liquidity portfolio.
- Benefit for credit losses was $1.7 billion in 2023, compared with a provision of $6.3 billion in 2022. The benefit for credit losses in 2023 reflects a $2.2 billion single-family benefit for credit losses, partially offset by a $495 million multifamily provision for credit losses. The $6.3 billion provision for credit losses in 2022 reflected a $5.0 billion single-family provision for credit losses and a $1.2 billion multifamily provision for credit losses.
 - The single-family benefit for credit losses in 2023 was primarily driven by a benefit from actual and forecasted home price growth, partially offset by a provision driven by the overall credit risk profile of the company's newly acquired single-family loans and a provision relating to the redesignation of certain single-family loans from held for investment to held for sale.
 - The multifamily provision for credit losses in 2023 was primarily driven by changes in loan activity and declining property values on the company's overall multifamily guaranty book. The company's seniors housing loans were not a driver of its multifamily provision for credit losses in 2023; however, the company's allowance for seniors housing loans remained elevated as of December 31, 2023.

⁽¹⁾ Consists of costs associated with freestanding credit enhancements, which primarily include the company's Connecticut Avenue Securities[®] and Credit Insurance Risk TransferTM programs, enterprise-paid mortgage insurance, and certain lender risk-sharing programs.

⁽²⁾ Consists of debt extinguishment gains and losses, expenses associated with legal claims, foreclosed property income (expense), gains and losses from partnership investments, housing trust fund expenses, loan subservicing costs, and servicer fees paid in connection with certain loss mitigation activities.

Key Business Highlights

- New multifamily business volume was $52.9 billion in 2023, compared with $69.2 billion in 2022.
- The multifamily guaranty book of business grew by 7% in 2023 to $470.4 billion driven by the company's acquisitions combined with low prepayment volumes due to the high interest rate environment.
- The average charged guaranty fee on the multifamily guaranty book declined by 2.4 basis points to 76.1 basis points in 2023, primarily due to lower average charged fees on the company's 2023 acquisitions as compared with the existing loans in the multifamily guaranty book of business.
- The multifamily serious delinquency rate increased to 0.46% as of December 31, 2023, compared with 0.24% as of December 31, 2022, primarily driven by stress in the company's seniors housing loans. Multifamily seriously delinquent loans are loans that are 60 days or more past due.
- Fannie Mae is subject to an annual multifamily loan purchase cap set by FHFA. For 2024, FHFA reduced the multifamily volume cap to $70 billion from the $75 billion cap applicable for 2023. Consistent with the 2023 cap, a minimum of 50% of the company's 2024 multifamily loan purchases must be mission-driven, focused on specified affordable and underserved market segments. For 2024, FHFA has exempted from the volume cap loans financing workforce housing properties meeting specified criteria that preserve long-term affordability for the properties. The company's 2023 multifamily business volume remained below the applicable cap and it met the mission requirements established by FHFA.
